No man ever deserved to pay more than he does for his splendid services to the state, and no honest citizen of Kentucky begrudges him one cent of his fee. I want this whole matter fully discussed before the people and understood by them. The statement made by some irresponsible persons that I had originally employed him for a fee not to

My distinguished opponent, not only in his speech accepting the nomination, promised, in the event of his election, to undertake the miraculous task of "restoring nature's nobility to Kentucky," but he has also in all of his utterances talked about having a "business" administration and told about his great success as a business man. He and his party ten years ago, and I must confess that in this respect my opponent is far more than a match for me. But without being boastful, I believe that I can modestly and justly lay claim to the fact that my services to the commonwealth have been successful as his service has been for himself. When I came into this office at a time of great civil discord, with lawlessness and crime rampant, with the airs of the commonwealth in a disorder-of $1,000,000. As I have shown before,

I believe it is safe to say that in no similar period in our history has more capital been invested in Kentucky than has been during this administration, because it has been assured of the rigid enforcement of the laws. Kentucky has large extent the business activity in the state. Let us make a comparison from the records and see what they show. Dur-

During the first three years there were organized 1,232 corporations, with a capital of $2,002,730, and the organization tax on it which went into the state treasury was $2,003.94. I am a democrat in practice as well as in principle, and the door of my office has been opened as cordially to the humblest citizen in the commonwealth as to the proudest. In conclusion, my fellow-citizens, I am glad to give hope to you of a brilliant victory at the polls in November. I ask you to give your support to the man who, though they are not satisfied with a small minority, but that they shall roll up such a large vote that they will be a force to come all danger of secessionism, supremacy, take Kentucky absolutely out of the hands of the secessionists, and good cheer to the hearts of the national democracy. Let the victory be enough to give us the right to stand and stand on the premise, with reason and confidence, to the democrats throughout the country, that the man who has been elected is the man who is the best of the democratic is nominated. Kentucky is certainly for a by a good, old-fashioned, majority.

Mr. Hurl's fitness for the office of Circuit Judge cannot be called into question.

The canvass for Circuit Judge in this district is on and Rollin Hurl is in the fight to win.

It is hinted that Gov. Taft will discover "blow holes" in Mr. Root's administration of the War Department.

Large crowds greet Governor Beckham at every speaking. The boys are in the saddle and victory by a large majority is in sight.

Every business man is interested in having a man for Circuit Judge who is qualified in every particular. Hon. Rollin Hurl is that man.

Judging from newspaper reports the opening of the Republican campaign at Munfordsville, last Saturday, was a tame affair.

Congressman Vincent Borowing, who has been critically ill at his home in London, is thought to be some better. He has double pneumonia.

Mr. Rollin Hurl's candidacy for Circuit Judge has created great enthusiasm throughout the district. He is a popular gentleman and a lawyer of well-known ability.

There are now on the rolls 900-515 pensioners. The average amount of each pension is $138. The Spanish War pension roll has reached $1,705,810, and applications continue to go in.

J. H. Newman, of Tompkinsville, is the Chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee. With a perfectly Newman to conduct affairs, the canvass will drag itself to death.

No man has ever announced himself a candidate for office who met more genuine enthusiasm than Rollin Hurl, who seeks to be elected Circuit Judge of this the 29th judicial district.

This district is composed of the counties of Adair, Casey, Cumberland, Metcalfe, Russell and Monroe. Mr. Hurl is popular in all six of the counties and his friends are glad that he is seeking to be elected Circuit Judge of the district.

Heat was very oppressive at every point in Kentucky last Saturday with one exception—Munfordsville, where Mr. Belknap spoke. Judging from the picture of the speaker, the crowd in attendance, dressed in overcoats, wearing ear-muffs and gloves, it must have been freezing at that place. Simon Bolivar Buckner managed to keep his nose warm by continuously pulling his coat-pipe.

GOV. BECKHAM AND HON. OLLIE JAMES VISIT

On the 8th of this month Governor Beckham and Congressman Ollie James entered the Eleventh Congressional district in the interest of the Democratic ticket, their first appointment being at Lebanon. We are informed that an unusually large crowd was present and that more genuine enthusiasm was manifested than for many years. The next appointment was at Jamestown and there fully 1,000 were out to hear the two distinguished gentlemen and to give them a hearty welcome. From Jamestown to Columbia many were out on the road side to see the Governor and to give him a hearty shake of the hand, and in justice to Mr. Beckham, it seemed to us that he enjoyed stopping and shaking hands with the men, women and children even more than they, if possible. We remarked to him that one people in this part of the State rarely had an opportunity to meet our most distinguished citizens and officials, and while it might be considered by some as satisfying a curiosity to see a Governor, yet it is his character and make-up to show their appreciation of his visit to this section. He remarked that it was a great pleasure to be in this part of the State, that the desire manifested along the route to meet him was truly commendable and highly appreciated by himself.

On reaching Columbia, he and Mr. James and the two reporters, Graham Vreeland, of the Courier-Journal, and Tom Wallace of the Herald, were all given a hearty welcome at the Marum Hotel and every courtesy shown within the reach of our people to make their stay a pleasant one. Early Thursday morning a reception was held in the public room of the hotel, the Governor being introduced to hundreds of Democrats by Mr. Jas. Garment, Jr.

In the afternoon fully 3,000 people assembled on our Fair Grounds to hear the issues presented from a Democratic standpoint. Gov. Beckham was introduced in a brief and interesting manner by Hon. J. P. Montgomery and Congressman James made his bow to the vast assembly after Judge James Garment had enthusiastically introduced him.

Gov. Beckham's speech was along the line of his opening address at Winchester which is published on the first page of this paper. He is an easy and pleasant speaker and during the one hour and ten minutes which he occupied he had the undivided attention of the vast throng who heard him. Upon concluding the ladies showed their appreciation of his coming by presenting him with hand-some bouquets. Mr. James spoke pointedly and was continuously applauded.

The next day Greensburg was reached at 10:30 and the Governor and his associates drove to the ball grounds where the Lebanon team had come to show the Greensburg boys how to play ball. The game was promptly called and Governor Beckham pulled his coat, stepped into the box and pitched the first ball like an old player. The game was highly interesting and when the play was over victory was perched on the boys of Green. The score standing 6 to 3. Heretofore the Lebanon team had carried off the laurels, but this time ability and determination asserted their power and our neighbor boys proved too strong and skillful for the blue-grass players to maintain their record. At 1 p. m. 1,500 to 2,000 people assembled in a beautiful grove and paid the closest attention to the speeches of their distinguished visitors.

The next day, Saturday, was Campbellsville's time, and in justice to her we are bound to say that nothing was lacking to show appreciation of the visit and their determination to outdo all the towns in this part of the State. Fully 3,000 people were in that beautiful little city to make merry and to extend a cordial greeting to our Governor. At 10 a. m. a procession of 300 was formed headed by a good band, followed by decorated vehicles loaded with beautiful ladies and determined Democrats and many horses carrying enthusiastic voters. Their guests were escorted through the streets and to the court house where a reception was held for an hour, hundreds meeting and shaking the hand of our present and future Governor. At 1 p. m. 2000 to 2500 were on the court-house grounds to hear the speeches. Briefly summing up the situation we can only say that the best of order prevailed in every town, that good feeling was manifested, that Democratic enthusiasm and deep, determined and unflinching manifestations to roll up a tremendous majority for the Democratic ticket was never more prominent than at present. Every place is alive, every man is on the alert. The cause is a righteous one and victory inevitable if duty is done.

Mr. Hurl's speech at Burkleville last Monday was highly pleasing to every one who feels an interest in his election. The court-house was crowded and more real enthusiasm was manifested than his most ardent friends anticipated. He spoke at Marrowbone Monday night.

Bills are posted announcing that Hon. M. R. Yarberry and Mr. H. C. Baker will speak here Monday.

In politics, he is a Democrat, in religion, a Presbyterian. He has been active in Church affairs since early manhood, and in Perryville, where he resided before removing to Danville, he taught regularly a Sunday-school class for more than fifty years. Judge Armstrong formed many acquaintances in Columbia and was most favorably impressed with the town and its inhabitants. He never knew the good reason Dr. Wood had for calling this "God's country" until he came and mingled with the people. It was the pleasure of a news man to travel with the Judge from Lebanon to Columbia, making the trip exceedingly pleasant.

THE RAILROAD.

Replying to the inquiries of a representative of the News in relation to the prospect of the railroad, Prof. Azbill said:

"Yes, I have seen and conferred with the parties we are seeking to interest in the road, and there are several things I might tell you of the progress being made; and I appreciate the desire of our community for fresh information, and have tried, in my humble way, to minister to it; but I do not think it important or necessary to warm over the local interest too often. To succeed in an enterprise of this sort requires more than a span of good wishes on the part of those persons who never expect to do more than hope it will succeed. Besides the men and women who have it in their hearts to help with their substance when the time comes, need so reassuring that I will tell you this. When Col. Powell was here he expressed but one doubt about the feasibility of the undertaking, and that was as to whether an electric motor could handle the heavy shipments of freight from this district. I, therefore, went to the city prepared to meet this point. I had assurance from the General Electric Company, cuts of engines and machinery articles to show him. But no sooner than the subject was touched he said:

"You need not dwell on that phase of the matter. I have been investigating, and I find that there is practically no limit to what we can build with electric motors. And I find we can get what we want right here at home."

"And when I showed my proofs to one of the Tennessee engineers he said with a smile that I might show them to Col. Powers, but in an office like this it would not be worth while to spend much time over the question."

"There are only about ten miles of difficult grading on the entire line. There are thirty miles which will be at grade as construction can be had anywhere. My opinion is that the final estimate will be about $15,000 per mile, including equipment."

"Go now and let the wise—and the unwise—the well-wishers and the pessimists, their predictions and idle words will all be in remembrance on the train some sweet day."

OBITUARY.
Wednesday night, August 19th, 1903, the spirit of Peter Tarter, our beloved father, took passage to the unknown world to us. He was born December 10th, 1820. Was married December 18th, 1848 to Sarah Edwards. They lived happily together until her death, which occurred March 1st, 1898, and with her his happiness seemed to have been buried as he said on that occasion. His life work is finished and well done; while he left none of this world's good to his children, he left a heritage far more enduring. He left nothing undone that he could do to help those in distress, was generous hearted to a fault, and leaves many friends to sorrow. Out of a family of seven only three survive him. We sorrow but the sorrow is not needed; he told us this and again that he wanted to go to the dear mother who had gone before. We loved him for he was an indulgent father, a devoted husband, a kind friend and neighbor. He professed religion in his 18th year and joined the Methodist church and lived a consistent Christian to the end. He was also a member of the Masonic Fraternity, a member of the Adair County Fiscal court, was a cheerful companion, always meeting his friends with a smile and handshake.
Friends and relatives let us strive to meet him where parting is no more.

What is Life?
In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at all druggists.

CHEAP LANDS
For Homesteaders and Colonies.
The country along the Cotton Belt Route in Southern Mississippi, Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana and Texas offers the greatest opportunities for Homesteaders. Mild climate, good water, cheap building material, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.50 an acre, prairie land at $4 and $5 per acre up, bottom land at $5 and $6 per acre up. Improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $15 per acre up. Some fine propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 8,000 acres at $4 to $6 per acre—big money to be made for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap lands, exemption taxes, and a literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you very little more than the most you pay every year.
